LinkIT Server Rack 42U Black

W800xD1000xH1983 | Perforated - Split Perforated

Product number: LI-SR8010042B-PPD

Product Description

LinkIT Server Rack is designed for professional installations in data centers, technical rooms, and enterprise networks. The rack features a robust steel construction, lockable perforated doors, and removable side panels that provide both high security and easy access during installation and maintenance. The perforated doors ensure efficient ventilation and optimal cooling for active equipment. Adjustable 19" mounting profiles allow flexible installation of servers, switches, patch panels, and other standard rack equipment. Cable entry points in both the top and bottom enable organized and structured cable routing. The rack is engineered for high stability and reliable operation in demanding IT environments and is suitable for both small and large network installations. CE and RoHS certified.

FMOM Documentation

The LinkIT Server Rack is intended for installation and protection of standard 19" server and network equipment in professional IT environments. The rack supports structured cable management, secure equipment mounting, and efficient airflow for stable operation. Maintenance is limited to regular inspection of mounting points, door locks, ventilation paths, and cable organization. Cleaning should be performed using dry or slightly damp cloths only. All installation and servicing should be carried out by qualified personnel according to local regulations and manufacturer recommendations.
